Poetry, Psalms and Prayers

Psalm 23

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He makes me to lie down in green pastures;
He leads me beside the still waters.
He restores my soul;
He leads me in the paths of righteousness For His name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil;
for You are with me;
Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me.

You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies;
You anoint my head with oil;
my cup runs over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

A Prayer for August

Father God, During this time where many families are spending time together, we lift those to you who do not live in a happy home.
We ask for your protection over the abused, your relief for those struggling with addiction, your peace for those with mental health issues, your love for those who feel lonely and uncared for and your refuge for those without a place to call home.
Help us to help those in need around us.
Thank you Father God. Amen.

Loaves and Fishes

This is not the age of information.

This is NOT
the age of information.

Forget the news,
and the radio,
And the blurred screen.

This is the time of loaves and fishes.

People are hungry, and one good word is bread for a thousand.

Psalm 145:10-19

All your works praise you, Lord; your faithful people extol you.
They tell of the glory of your kingdom and speak of your might,
so that all people may know of your mighty acts and the glorious splendor of your kingdom.
Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and your dominion endures through all generations.
The Lord is trustworthy in all he promises and faithful in all he does.
The Lord upholds all who fall and lifts up all who are bowed down.
The eyes of all look to you, and you give them their food at the proper time.
You open your hand and satisfy the desires of every living thing.
The Lord is righteous in all his ways and faithful in all he does.
The Lord is near to all who call on him, to all who call on him in truth.
He fulfills the desires of those who fear him; he hears their cry and saves them.

Ephesians 3:14-end

For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth derives its name. I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith.
And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have power, together with all the Lord's holy people, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge—that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God.

Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.

John 6:1-21

Some time after this, Jesus crossed to the far shore of the Sea of Galilee (that is, the Sea of Tiberias), and a great crowd of people followed him because they saw the signs he had performed by healing the sick. Then Jesus went up on a mountainside and sat down with his disciples. The Jewish Passover Festival was near.

When Jesus looked up and saw a great crowd coming toward him, he said to Philip, “Where shall we buy bread for these people to eat?” He asked this only to test him, for he already had in mind what he was going to do.
Philip answered him, “It would take more than half a year's wages to buy enough bread for each one to have a bite!”

Another of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, spoke up, “Here is a boy with five small barley loaves and two small fish, but how far will they go among so many?”

Jesus said, “Have the people sit down.” There was plenty of grass in that place, and they sat down (about five thousand men were there). Jesus then took the loaves, gave thanks, and distributed to those who were seated as much as they wanted. He did the same with the fish.

When they had all had enough to eat, he said to his disciples, “Gather the pieces that are left over.
Let nothing be wasted.” So they gathered them and filled twelve baskets with the pieces of the five barley loaves left over by those who had eaten.
After the people saw the sign Jesus performed, they began to say, “Surely this is the Prophet who is to come into the world.” Jesus, knowing that they intended to come and make him king by force, withdrew again to a mountain by himself.
When evening came, his disciples went down to the lake, where they got into a boat and set off across the lake for Capernaum. By now it was dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them. 18 A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. When they had rowed about three or four miles, they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water; and they were frightened. But he said to them, “It is I; don't be afraid.” Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading.

Sunday Sermon

by Jan Griffin

Our Gospel reading today is a very familiar one, we might wonder what there might be that is new in this for us today? I believe that the Gospels although set in a particular time, speak directly to each one of us afresh in our current time and they never become dry or stale.

I wonder if I might ask you to consider all three of our readings today, I include the Psalm, as a sort of 'Sandwich'?

In one slice of 'bread', The psalmist tells of God's glory, His capacity, trustworthiness and His enormous generosity. 'All your works praise you, Lord.....The eyes of all look to you and you give them food at the proper time'.

Our second 'slice', from Paul's letter to the Ephesians also tells of the magnitude of God's grace. 'How wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ.' It contains also that wonderful doxology, to which we will return.

Keeping with the 'Sandwich' metaphor then, our Gospel reading provides the abundant 'filling' to help feed us today.

As you will know the four Gospels have their differences. There are some common accounts of key events – Our Lord's preaching in Galilee early in His ministry there. His entry into Jerusalem riding on a donkey, the Lord's Supper (albeit in a different form in John), His betrayal, arrest and trial before Pilate, His crucifixion, death, laying in the tomb and His resurrection. These are of course all so key to our faith that this is not unexpected. What then do we make of the feeding of the five-thousand, the only miracle that occurs in all four Gospels?

We all know the story – of course we do: Big crowd, no food, a few loaves and fishes, miracle, feeds everyone, lots left over.

Perhaps in our assumption about the familiar 'story' we fail to open ourselves to what more this account has to say? Does it suggest something of the significance of this event, so much so that it is in all four Gospels, that might also be key to understanding the mind and will of Christ for us, here in church today, in Bewsborough Parish and in our communities?

In John's Gospel account we have a very specific place, the hillside above the Sea of Galilee, on the Eastern side. Jesus has crossed over to the 'far shore' and those who had seen his healing miracles have followed him. Sitting on the hillside or mountainside, Jesus sees the huge crowd approaching. We are presented with two things, Jesus' concern for the welfare of the people and something of his 'testing' of his disciples.

'Where can we buy bread?' He asks Philip – a good person to ask as Philip came from Bethsaida, a town only about 8 miles away. Philip who had presumably been with Jesus when miracles were performed, perhaps forgot that, and immediately started calculating the cost. Two hundred denarii -about eight month's wages would not be enough for more than a single mouthful for each person. Perhaps he knew they had that amount of money in the purse, perhaps it was a measure of needing a large amount of money to feed the crowd – they did not have 'enough'!! With our own 'practical' and 'prudent' hats on, perhaps we would give up at that point too! There is 'not enough'. But Philip has been alongside Jesus, how limited is his imagination at this point! The resources are all there, but he and perhaps the others cannot see that.

Andrew, spots a boy with a small amount of food but agrees with Philip – it is not enough. The disciples will actually have had more resources themselves than the small boy, but deeming it ‘not enough’ they give up, giving nothing. How often do we think we cannot give ‘enough’? I may not be the only one to sometimes set aside the Christian Aid, Red Cross or Unicef appeal letter until ‘later’ when I might be able to give more. Often with the result that it is forgotten and nothing is given.

If the boy with the food had thought in the same way the bread might have been stale and the fish rancid. Instead, he seems to willingly hand over his food – five small barley loaves and two small fish. Not much, but all he had.

The boy, the child, not even counted in the 5,000 ‘men’ who were gathered, gave what he had.

The miracle is not just in the tearing apart and sharing of loaves and fishes so many times it fed everyone but that there was such an abundance that no-one was hungry and 12 baskets of food were left over. Does this illustrate something of the incredible generosity of God’s love for us? That he can take a tiny offering, willingly given as was the child’s, and multiply and multiply creating more than we might imagine is possible? The same generosity in the ‘filling’ of our sandwich as is in the two ‘slices’ of bread of the Psalm and the epistle. The generosity that takes that which was ‘not enough’ to make it become so much more than enough!

The people were understandably impressed and we are told that Jesus knew they were about to thrust onto him a worldly glory, authority, today we might liken it to ‘celebrity’. Their imagination was limited too, they could not understand the full picture and that Jesus was not the sort of ‘king’ they expected and wanted. Unlike many who might succumb to such an ego boost Jesus sets a different example, he withdraws. He has provided the food, the ‘sandwich’ and does not need to stay around to receive that kind of glory. He quietly slips away so that the crowds do not follow him. He must have gone alone as the disciples, we are told, later take a boat to cross back to Capernaum without Him.

In the dark one of the sudden storms which can spring up on the Sea of Galilee does so when they are some miles from the shore. Some of the disciples would have been familiar with the Sea and with storms, we are not told they are frightened of the storm but of the sight of a man walking towards them.

Just as Philip and Andrew did not recognise the power of Jesus to feed the hungry, neither do the disciples recognise that it is Him walking on the water, until he says to them ‘It is I, do not be afraid’, at which point they take him into the boat and immediately reach the shore to which they are heading. Do not be afraid, He says, to them and to us, again and again.

The disciples see but do not understand. They experience but do not expect. They just don’t ‘get it’. They are reluctant, as we often may be to give the little they have because they, and we, fear it is ‘not enough’, so nothing is given.

Jesus will take what we offer and can use it, He can multiply and multiply and multiply! And He will come to us across the stormy seas of our lives, if we let Him.

The feeding is immediate, the landing on the other side is immediate.

When we look around us the thought of feeding the hungry is overwhelming. Christian Aid estimate that 1 in 9 are hungry or undernourished, more than 41 million people in 43 countries are teetering on the brink of famine.

In this country we know that many are in food poverty. We might understandably think that we cannot feed them, we do not have 'enough' that our faith, is asking the impossible but our 'not enough' in Him is more than enough. Mother Teresa is reported to have said "If you cannot feed a hundred hungry people, feed this one". However we do it, by donating to Christian Aid, by physically offering hospitality to someone who is hungry or by paying a little more for a coffee or a meal at the new venture of the Sunrise Café on Snargate Street, we can feed one of the 'this ones'.

Our not enough is always more than enough with Jesus. They and we can be filled with the goodness of God. Whatever the 'storms', whatever 'boat' we are in Jesus is ready to join us - walking on water, walking on the streets and fields of Bewsborough to take our not enough and make it plentiful.

The 'filling' in today's 'Gospel sandwich' is plentiful food, enough that we may be fed by God's grace. The pieces of bread of the sandwich which hold it, our hope and our action as we go out of this place and through the week ahead, are prayers.

Our psalm, in its prayer glorifying God says:

All your works praise you, Lord

The Lord is trustworthy in all He promises

The Lord upholds those who fall

You give them their food at the proper time.

And in our reading from Ephesians St Paul gives us words which might be a prayer for all of us this day:

I pray that out of His glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith, that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God.. ...Now to Him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to His power that is at work within us, to Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever. Amen.
